PRICE FIVE CENTS

Seeks School Auditorium To Present Pageant Here From June 12 To Sept. 5

The Gettysburg Joint School Board Monday evening turned over to its property committee a request from a New York theatrical producer for permission to rent the high school auditorium from June 12 through September 5 to present a "high grade" dramatic production on Lincoln or the Civil War.

Business Manager Kenneth G. Reinhart Jr. read a letter which outlined terms of the request from Bruce Becker, who identified himself as a former member of the Paramount staff in Hollywood and currently a theatrical producer in New York and New Jersey.

Becker offered to pay $1,750 rent for the auditorium, pay electricity, repairs, carry liability insurance and custodial service for the period.

The plan would be for Becker's theatrical organization to present the play on Lincoln or the Civil War six evenings a week with two matinee performances each week.

GET LEGAL ADVICE

Provision would be made for firemen to use the auditorium for their annual memorial service during the battle anniversary if they wished, directors were told.

The property committee was instructed to confer with legal counsel and was given authority to execute a contract with Becker if satisfactory terms could be agreed upon. The contract later would be up for ratification by the joint board.

Asked later by a board member for his opinion on the proposal, Superintendent H. Edgar Riegle said he believed the proposal is in keeping with local efforts to offer more tourist attractions in the community in the evenings and added that he felt the school district has some responsibility to the general public for making its facilities available. He also reminded the directors they are "trustees" of school property and charged with its care and maintenance.

The property committee met after the board meeting to make plans for a special meeting on the request.

LIBRARY IS LAUDED FOR SERVICE HERE

Two officials of the Adams County Public Library board Monday evening expressed themselves as "well pleased with the progress of our library" in addresses before the Rotary Club at the Varsity Diner.

Attorney H. Thomas Pyle, president of the board, and Dr. Frank N. Hewetson, treasurer, in their "Library Week" talk reported visiting a number of nearby libraries. Pyle said: "Our library, considering the relatively few years it has been in existence, compares very favorably with the others."

Dr. Hewetson said the library is "one of the finest organizations in this area. There are no restrictions on color, race or creed. It serves all the public and only wants to serve it better at all times."

TELLS OF BUDGET

Dr. Hewetson said the $25,000 budgeted for the library this year will be made up of "about $4,000 from the state, $8,000 from the county, $2,400 from Community Chest, $1,500 from Gettysburg, $2,000 from the schools, $600 from a trust fund, $1,000 from fines and $3,400 from gifts. That last figure is where we go out and plug to get enough gifts to carry the library through the year. Our expenditures will be about $13,500 for salaries for the three full-time and three part-time employees, $5,000 for books, $600 for supplies, $2,000 for payment on the mortgage, about $600 for insurance and $300 for the bookmobile."

Pyle said that library has been stepping up purchase of reference books and added, "The use (Continued On Page 3)

Other officers chosen at the same time included: Mrs. Lee M. Hartman, vice president; Mrs. Edmund Thomas, secretary; and Mrs. L. C. Keefe, treasurer. The officers were installed by Mrs. Mark Eckert.

Mrs. Ralph D. Heim, executive director, asked that all new committee chairmen select their committee members by April 28 and hold an organization meeting before fall. ACT AS COORDINATOR

In his new position he will continue to perform the duties of elementary coordinator but his position at the Keefeauver School will be filled by Ronald D. A board statement on other matters connected with the new position fixed the maximum salary for the job at $2,000 less than that of the superintendent with $400 annual increments until that (Continued On Page 5)

IMPOSE FINES ON YOUTHFUL TRIO IN COURT

Two Gettysburg High School students and an Air Force member were given suspended sentences by the Adams County court this morning for removing five radios and a record player from the local high school during last fall's cooking school. They were ordered to pay $100 fines each, make restitution of $5 and pay the costs.

Edward L. Nett, 18, Gettysburg R. 3; Patrick Flynn, 18, Gettysburg R. 2, both students at the school here, and George Thompson, 20, Gettysburg R. 3, stationed with the Air Force at Keesler Field, Miss., entered pleas of guilty to the charges brought against them by Cpl. Daniel Miller, criminal investigator for the local police force.

ALL LOOT RECOVERED

Flynn told the court that Nett had noticed the record player and radios "while on duty" at the show and "he asked me if I thought we could get them. I said I thought so. Nett talked to Thompson. We opened a window and went in."

Nett, who told the court "I guess we just thought it a smart thing to pull it," said, "We put the record player and portable radio in the clubhouse on Thompson's property."

Cpl. Miller told the court the value of the various articles stolen totaled $300 and all were recovered. He said, "One of the radios was sold to a lady and we found out about it. When she said Thompson had sold it to her we called Keesler Field and pretty soon we had the whole story."

The court directed that the woman who had purchased the radio from Thompson for $5 be reimbursed by the three in that amount.

The court added: "It is only because of your age and the fact that this is your first appearance before the court that you do not face a jail sentence. You have unfortunately established a record against yourselves that will be against you for the rest of your lives, but you can make up for it by your future conduct."

The three were given three months to pay the fine and costs.

FINED $25

Paul H. Rempel Jr., Quantico, Va., paid a $25 fine and costs to Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder at a hearing Saturday on a hit and run charge. Rempel on February 26 struck a parked Renault on York St. owned by Kenneth Thomas.

Adolf Eichmann Is First Man Tried In Jewish Court For Crimes Against Jews

By RELMAN MORIN

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann, standing stiff-backed and impassive in the bulletproof prisoner's dock of a Jerusalem court today, heard himself described as the arch persecutor of the Jews during World War II.

It was the first time in 2,000 years that a man accused of inflicting suffering and death on the Jews was brought to judgment in a Jewish court.

The atmosphere was electric with drama—even during the 70 minutes when the indictment, itemizing Eichmann's alleged crimes—was being read by the president of the court, Supreme Court Justice Moshe Landau.

Legal arguments broke out immediately after the reading of the 27-page, 15-count indictment.

COURT IS CHALLENGED

Eichmann's chief counsel, pudgy, gray-haired Dr. Robert Servatius of West Germany, challenged the jurisdiction of the special court trying him in Israel, the Israeli law of 1950 under which Eichmann is being tried, and the circumstances in which he was spirited from Argentina to Israel last May.

Israel's attorney general, Gideon Hausner, disputed Servatius' argument.

Israel accuses Eichmann of "crimes against the Jewish people and crimes against humanity." The indictment asserts that he bears direct responsibility for the slaying of millions of Jews, that he caused others "degradation . . . deportation . . . deprivation . . . and inhuman torture and suffering."

COULD GET DEATH

Israel has abolished capital punishment except for crimes against humanity under the 1950 law. On 12 of the 15 counts against Eichmann, the maximum penalty is death.

Eichmann, as chief of the Jewish Affairs Section of the Nazi Gestapo during the war, is accused of direct responsibility for

PUMP GIVEN TO FIREMEN BY AUXILIARY

The Auxiliary of the Gettysburg Fire Department Monday evening presented the local firemen with a new portable pump.

Since funds were raised during the period when Mrs. Joseph Sanders was president of the club, she made the formal presentation to Fire Chief Francis I. Linn and Fire Department President E. Glenn Raffensperger at the auxiliary meeting in the engine house.

Mrs. Sanders told the firemen, "We of the ladies auxiliary seek always to further the aims and purposes of the Gettysburg Fire Department and thus it is with great pleasure that we are able to help provide useful equipment needed by the department, such as this portable pump."

The pump is the second such piece of equipment for the firemen. The pumps have proven their value a number of times, Fire Chief Linn said. The pumps are generally in use at nearly all rural fires.

PLAN RUMMAGE SALE

Mrs. Martin Crabb thanked members for their assistance at the recent builders' show. A by-laws study committee comprising Miss Jane Roth, Mrs. Guyon Buehler and Mrs. Edward Paris will meet with fire company officers April 20 at 8 o'clock. A rummage sale will be held May 6. The membership committee will meet at 8:30 o'clock this evening at the home of Mrs. Francis Groff.

Mrs. Jack Miller and Mrs. Earl Myers were enrolled as new members. The Harney Auxiliary will be guests of the local group at the next meeting at the Adams Electric building. Mrs. Robert Hartman won the door prize.

The refreshment committee for the next meeting includes: Mrs. John Cadori chairman, Mrs. David Baker, Mrs. William Little, Mrs. Richard Cole Sr., Mrs. Frank Linn, Mrs. Charles Bollinger and Mrs. G. Henry Roth.

Prizes were won by Mrs. William Gallagher, Mrs. Darlene Dayhoff and Mrs. Joseph Staub.

Bermudian School Sets Up Huge Budget

The Bermudian Springs Joint School board at its April meeting Monday evening at the new high school, near York Springs, adopted temporarily a $429,250 budget for 1961-62, set a new date for the dedication of the new high school and elected three teachers.

The new budget, largest ever adopted by the jointure, is about 10 per cent above that for the current year. The additional cost is due to the operation of the new school and state-ordered increases in teachers' salaries accounting for most of the increase. The budget will be advertised and will be up for final approval in May.

The board, hoping to avoid a conflict with apple blossom Sunday, moved the date for the dedication of the new high school from April 30 to Sunday, May 14.

The board elected three teachers and accepted the resignation of another.

ROBERT MURPHY LEAVES

Miss Gloria Albert, Beaver-town, who will graduate from Susquehanna University this spring, was elected to teach vocal music at $3,800 per year. Mrs. Rexine Thompson, near York Haven, who will graduate from Shippensburg State College in May, will teach junior high English.

CHANGED STORY

The court decided that under the circumstances it could not accept the pleas of the three men and they would have to appear for trial in May. The three then insisted they wanted to "plead guilty and get it over with" and told another story somewhat different from the first. The court still refused to accept the pleas.

The four then agreed that they had decided to steal a wedding present because they did not have enough money to buy one and Harris and Thomas were to dis-

4 BALTIMORE NEGROES SENT TO JAIL HERE

Four Baltimore negroes were sentenced to 60 days each in the county jail after pleading guilty before the court this morning to stealing a portable electric mixer from the Vernon C. Reaver Appliance Store, Littlestown, Saturday afternoon.

The four were Miss Carmaleita F. Grant, 22; Theodore Roosevelt Harris, 29, and Robert Edward Thomas, 38, alias Robert T. Edwards, who were arrested Saturday in Littlestown, and Harry Leon Regusters, who was arrested at the jail Monday afternoon when he sought to bail Harris.

All four entered pleas of guilty. Regusters said he was guilty because he was driving the car in which the other three rode, but said he did not know they planned to steal anything. He said he was driving the other three to Steelton to a wedding and they asked to stop at Littlestown to buy a wedding present. Harris and Thomas said they were guilty because they knew about the theft but did not know about the theft at the time it occurred.

Miss Grant said none of the others knew she had taken the mixer until they all returned to the car. She said the others then insisted she return the article but she refused "because there were too many people around."

The first million dollar operating budget for the Gettysburg Joint School district was given preliminary approval Monday evening by the school board at its April meeting. The budget will be advertised and will be up for final adoption in May.

In addition to the operating budget, the member districts will have $203,300 in school rentals to pay to the Gettysburg School Authority, including a $50,000 initial payment on the proposed new high school.

That brings the total estimated Gettysburg Joint School district costs for the year beginning July 3 to $1,204,720.

The operating budget is up about $61,000 over that for the current year and much of that increase is due to the "five and a half" teachers to be added to the staff for next fall and state-mandated salary increases for all teachers. "NO FRILLS"

The "half teacher" comes about through an assignment of duties in the music department by which one new teacher will take over part of the duties now performed by one member of the staff, Superintendent H. Edgar Riegle explained.

The new budget, which was described by Superintendent Riegle as "the product of the work of many people over a long period of time," was presented to the board by Business Manager Kenneth G. Reinhart Jr.

Reichert said: "There are no frills in this budget and not too much cushion. I don't know where you could start to do any cutting. Everything in here is essential." He then went over the budget a division at a time and answered directors' questions.

GIVEN BREAKDOWN

Breakdown sheets distributed by Reinhart showed the division between elementary and secondary costs and gave each member district its estimated bill for jointure operation in the next year. In the operating budget more than $409,000 goes for elementary costs and more than $540,000 for high school expenses.

The chief increase is in "instruction" costs, a jump of about $54,000. That is to cover the salaries of the additional members of the teaching staff and the state-ordered salary rises of $200 per teacher.

Will Enlarge Post Office; Cost $227,000

Congressman George A. Gooding of the 19th Congressional District informed The Gettysburg Times that the General Services Administration has negotiated an architectural engineering contract with Buchart Associates, York, for extensions and remodeling to the Gettysburg Post Office at a cost of $227,000.

Assistant Postmaster Arthur Warman said that inspectors and estimators conferred here several days ago. The extension will be to the East portion with a driveway around the building with an exit or entrance off Baltimore St.

Buchart Associates, when contacted by The Times this morning, said that all announcements concerning the post office would have to come from the GSA in New York.

Approximately 65 church and Sunday School leaders from all parts of the county enrolled for the opening session of the annual leadership training school Monday evening at the Gettysburg Church of the Brethren. The opening devotions were conducted by the host pastor, the Rev. C. Reynolds Simmons.

The sessions will continue for the next five Monday nights and persons who enroll for next week's session and attend all classes can receive full credit, it was announced.

Before the opening session, a dinner meeting of the school's faculty and board of directors was held when room assignments and other preparations for the sessions were completed. Fifteen attended the dinner.

Greta Garbo Hails Japanese Actor

NEW YORK (AP) — Greta Garbo emerged briefly from her seclusion to cheer one of Japan's stage stars on visit here.

The incident, which occurred during a Kabuki troupe's appearance at City Center last summer, has been disclosed in "Today's Japan," an English language magazine published in Tokyo.

After seeing a performance, Miss Garbo went backstage to meet Utaemon.

"But I want to see his sweat," she was quoted as replying when told that his exertions made the star reluctant to see visitors.

Following a chat, Utaemon went on stage to be ready for the next scene.

Miss Garbo, the article by a member of the company said, stepped out next to him and touched his shoulder. As Utaemon turned, she waved, then ran from sight as the curtain opened.

Says Activities Curtail Education

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The president of Ohio's State Board of Education, Charlton Myers, says extra-curricular activities like basketball and bands tend to "sap the energy and siphon off the attention" of many pupils.

Myers points out that basketball on school nights has been trimmed in Ohio as a result of state board urging, but adds there have been no suggestions that the total number of games be trimmed.

Invitations to high school bands to play in far away places "seem exciting and desirable," he says, "but this is not education. . . . Until we discipline ourselves to distinguish between learning and fun, we will continue to send good teachers, in expensive buildings, children who are too tired and distracted to benefit."

VALLETTA, Malta (AP) — Mary Rogers, 45, daughter of the late Sir Abe Bailey, South African gold and diamond multimillionaire, was found dead Monday aboard her yacht in Malta harbor. Police said foul play was not suspected. Mrs. Rogers, whose father died in 1940, was due to sail for Sicily.

FOUR SEAMEN LOST AT SEA

NEW YORK (AP)—Coast Guard vessels today searched choppy Atlantic waters off the coast of New Jersey where an 80-foot fishing trawler sank with an apparent loss of four lives.

The Coast Guard said it would continue to search the area about 40 miles southeast of Cape May, N. J., so long as there was any possibility a survivor might be found.

The trawler, Powhatan, went down Monday after colliding in fog and heavy seas with the freighter South African Pioneer.

The only known survivor from the trawler was its skipper, Capt. Severn Robbins of Hampton, Va. He was picked up from a life raft by the freighter about an hour after the collision.

ONE BODY RECOVERED

The body of John R. Carey of Matthews, Va., was recovered. Owners of the trawler, J. S. Darling and Son of Hampton, listed three others as presumed dead. They were Robert Ripley of Susan, Va.; Marion King of Onemo, Va., and Gordon McPherson of Poquoson, Va.

There were no injuries aboard the 9,684-ton freighter, out of Capetown, South Africa. She was bound for New York from Charleston, S. C.

Robbins, who rested Monday night in a Brooklyn Hotel, said the trawler went down quickly and he doubted there was any other survivors.

Argues For Return Of $2,000 Bail

A hearing was held by the Adams County court Monday afternoon on the question of return of $2,000 bail posted by Thomas Marks, Harrisburg, on a cheating by false pretense charge in Adams County.

The bail was forfeited when Marks failed to appear at the time scheduled for his appearance. His attorney however argued that the bail should be remitted because Marks later was brought before the court.

No decision was reached by the court immediately after the hearing.

SIGN CALLED FAULTY

A brief hearing in which all testimony was entered by stipulation was held by the court on a charge brought against David P. Bortner, McSherrystown, when he drove around a "Road Closed" barricade in McSherrystown and passed over tar placed on the street. Attorneys for McSherrystown and Bortner were given 15 days in which to file briefs. The case indicated that if the court finds for Bortner a number of communities may have to repaint their signs. All agreed the sign, similar to one used for "25 years in McSherrystown," simply said "Road Closed." Attorney S. M. Raffensperger, representing Bortner, pointed to the state highway department or municipality has to put on the sign the provisions of the rule under which it is erected.

Placed on parole were Edward Wetzel, Fairfield R. D., who had served 60 days on an aggravated assault and battery charge, and Edward Noel, New Oxford, who had been in jail for contempt of court.

HEAR OTHER CASES

James K. Rorer, Hanover, who appeared on crutches following an auto accident Saturday, was told to return June 7 and in the meantime pay on his current support order and a $1,441 arrearage.

The support order of Fred E. Warner, Biglerville, was reduced to $17.50 per week for the support of a child. He also wanted to pay $5 per week to his divorced wife through the court order but was told it could not be arranged.

When Robert D. Jackson, 256 S. Washington St., charged with receiving stolen goods, appeared with Calvin Green Jr., Gettysburg R. 6, charged with stealing the goods—a cartoon of cigarettes—for sentence both Jackson and Green told the court Jackson did not know at the time he received the cigarettes that they were stolen. As a result the court directed Jackson to appear for trial in May. Green will be sentenced after the results of the trial are known.

Bernard R. Hewitt, R. 5, jockey who was described as "more than $3,000 in arrears" on a support order, appeared before the court. A Mrs. Butler, who said her husband plans to employ Hewitt as a jockey, told the court that Hewitt is almost deaf and recently attempted to ride a racehorse again, fell and suffered a broken jaw and other injuries. She said that Hewitt is to undergo an eye operation in New York in the future and should then be able to ride again. The court continued Hewitt's case to June 7 to permit him to start working again and begin payments.

Says Reds May Rule World Due To Yankee Optimism

CHICAGO (AP)—Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, U.S. chief of naval operations, said today totalitarian communism may conquer the world because of what he termed traditional Yankee optimism.

Burke said an optimistic refusal to acknowledge the extent of the Communist threat, and a preoccupation with the military aspect of the struggle has caused many Americans to "fool themselves that there is no threat."

The Communists, he said, "hope that our own indifference, our own apathy, our own preoccupation with material things will in themselves weaken the ideas and the ideals they seek to destroy."

Burke, speaking at the seventh annual National Military-Industrial and Education Conference, said, "Americans are naturally optimistic."

"WISHFUL THINKING"

He said Americans "often tend to indulge in wishful thinking. And when faced with stern realities, Americans often have a nostalgia for the good old days."

Many recognize the urgency of the Communist threat, he said, "but there remain many others in private life in our affluent society who are so self-satisfied, so comfortable, so content that they cannot be bothered with the dangers which surround them."

Burke said many nations have

BOOMS NIXON FOR 2 OFFICES

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A leading California Republican has launched a double-barreled political boom—Richard M. Nixon for governor in 1962 and for president in 1964.

Caspar W. Weinberger, state GOP vice-chairman, said he sees no reason why Nixon couldn't try again for the White House midway in the governor's four-year term.

The former vice president said two weeks ago he has no intention of seeking the state job. But, he let it be known last weekend that he'll decide his plans no later than mid-January.

Many Republicans are sure he will run for governor next year. Also Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown has said he thinks so.

Million Dollar

Edgar Riegle, his first raise in several years. He is now getting $10,500. Business Manager Reinhart is given a $300 increase.

There is $800 in the new budget for the county library as compared with $750 in this year's budget.

The budget also shows a gradual upturn in the cost of supplies materials because of the mounting enrollment. In most divisions where enrollment and teachers are not a factor, no important change is made from last year's budget.

The way the operating budget expenses will be divided among the member districts, on the basis of pupil enrollment, follows with the second figure representing the same district's share of the rental payments: Cumberland, $218,045 and $40,560; Franklin, $94,505 and $15,780; Gettysburg Merged, $384,353 and $111,460; Highland, $40,555 and $6,600; Mt. Joy, $68,525 and $7,190 and Straban, $174,217 and $21,710.

In the school year of 1959-1960, the jointure's operating budget totaled $924,028 and in the current year expenses are expected to total $940,028. Rentals did not change in the three-year period except for the inclusion of the $50,000 item for the new high school in the coming year's budget. The project is expected to be at the bidding stage this summer.

Katanga Regime Blocks U. N. Funds

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP)—A United Nations spokesman said today the Katanga government has blocked all U.N. bank funds in the city.

The blocking of the accounts follows Monday's threat by President Moise Tshombe to enforce economic sanctions against the United Nations unless Ethiopian soldiers in Kabalo either were replaced or ordered to give up their "act of aggression" against Katanga forces. Katanga's army occupied the town last week.

The spokesman said that the Ethiopian casualties in clashes with the Katanga forces in Kabalo now stood at two dead and eight wounded. The previous figure given was one dead and five wounded.

The spokesman added that reinforcements would be sent to the Ethiopian U.N. garrison in Kabalo—probably from neighboring Kivu—and that they would be Ethiopians. Tshombe has asked for soldiers of other nationalities.

School Bus, Truck Collide On Curve

HARRISBURG (AP)—Forty-two Lower Paxton Twp. Junior High School students were shaken up Monday when their school bus and a bread truck collided on a curve on Route 325 near here.

Two of the girls were hospitalized overnight but none were believed seriously injured.

Underbrush and trees were credited with keeping the bus from tumbling down a 20-foot embankment beside the road.

"If I had six more inches along the berm, I could have made it," said bus driver Robert G. Kosler, 37, Harrisburg.

State police said the accident occurred when the truck and bus brushed as they passed on the curve at the foot of Peter's Mountain, just east of Speeceville.

TO PURCHASE TRANSCIVER

The Adams County Amateur Radio Society, meeting Monday evening at the Lane Studio, York St., voted to purchase another HW-29A transceiver for use in Civil Defense emergencies.

The radio amateurs, part of the Civil Defense communications network of the county, are purchasing from their own funds the transceivers which will permit them to operate quickly either under a portable situation or at fixed stations in the field. In addition to the units purchased by the group, several members of the club reported plans to individually purchase transceivers to put the club in a better position to handle communications by radio throughout the county or between counties in event of emergency.

Decision to purchase transceivers was reached because most of the radio stations owned by the members are large and thus not easily portable in event of emergency.

Following the meeting Michael Vaughn, a member of the amateurs from York Springs, demonstrated "hog dog" cooking by means of low frequency AC current using the frankfurters as a resistor.

increase of more than 17 per cent—or nearly three times the increase of Pennsylvania as a whole.

He said that overall discussion and planning are necessary "to help our natural resources meet the pressures of an expanding population."

INTENDED TO HELP

Stream pollution control, water supplies, sewage disposal and refuse disposal are among problems becoming more important as the county's population increases, the county agent held.

Increased growth also brings pressure for more recreation and more employment opportunities as well as those of sanitation, the county agent noted.

He said the meeting is being held to provide information which will help "the people of our county decide what they want to do to meet the problems that will face us in the future and can most easily be solved now by meeting the problems before they become critical."

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Mistake May Cause Death:
Captain John Buckman, of Leeway, east of Fayetteville, well known to Adams County, is lying close to death from taking a drink of carbolic acid Sunday evening. He had been ill for several days and feebly wandered in the dark, unattended, to a cupboard in search of medicine. He got the wrong bottle, the result of which is likely to prove fatal.

Captain Buckman saw service in our navy and has long received a pension because of injuries received while there. After the war he was skipper of a sea going schooner. The captain came to Fayetteville about 25 years ago and after living there a while at the Sam Sherman hotel he purchased the Mentzer farm where he constructed the house in which he lived, the building being somewhat after the model of a naval vessel of that period.

Glad For Roads To Gettysburg: Harrisburg, the official center of Pennsylvania, the city of the State Capitol, will be connected with Gettysburg, the greatest historic point in Southern Pennsylvania, by one direct and five indirect routes under the terms of the Sprout main highway bill, according to the Harrisburg Telegraph.

Preparing For Commencement: Commencement time for the high schools in Adams County is drawing very near and the sweet girl graduate will soon be much in evidence at the exercises when diplomas, worked for during the past seven or eight years, will be presented.

Fairfield has already had its commencement and on Friday evening of next week the Abbotstown high school will hold its graduation exercises. The week following New Oxford High School will send out its class of Seniors and the week following that East Berlin's pupils will receive their "sheepskins."

Fire Caused By Cigarette: Fire Monday evening about half past eight o'clock damaged the house at the rear of the Methodist parsonage tenanted by John Costley and completely ruined the contents.

The fire is supposed to have been caused by a lighted cigarette thrown into a box where kindling and paper were kept and the blaze is thought to have smoldered for some time before the fire was discovered.

Mr. Costley was at the Methodist Church of which he is sexton when the fire started and Mrs. Costley was visiting friends in another part of town. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams live with the Costleys and had just returned home when the smoke was first discovered, and they lost no time in giving an alarm.

Rice Gave Away Secret: Miss Hilda S. Stine, of Hanover, was married to Austin T. Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Thomas, in Lancaster by the Rev. J. C. Brown, professor in the Reformed Theological Seminary, Thursday last. Miss Elda R. Myers, Gardner's Station, was bridesmaid and C. F. Moul, of Hanover, was best man. The party of four secretly left on Thursday morning in Mr. Moul's automobile for Lancaster. Upon arrival in that city they had a pre-nuptial supper in the Stevens House. They then went to the home of the Rev. Mr. Bowman, where the ceremony was performed. On the homeward trip a wedding breakfast was served in the National Hotel, York. The news of the wedding did not leak out until some time was found in Mr. Moul's auto Monday morning and an investigation was made immediately. The couple will reside in Hanover.

Today's Talk

DARE TO TEAR DOWN
Growth is an acknowledgment of imperfect knowledge.

If we didn't realize and admit our errors and ignorance at times, we would never grow. Every important invention is followed by improvements. We are constantly casting from us that which is of no further use to us.

I was driven through a section of New York City recently where entire blocks and slum areas had been torn down in order that new buildings, dedicated to the arts, might be erected. Scores of old buildings have had to be razed. But in their place will emerge the beautiful Lincoln Square project housing new halls for opera, concert, ballet and educational institutions.

Dare to tear down. Over and over the inventor tears down, only to rebuild along newer lines from ideas furnished by his former experiences.

As we look over these characters of ours, we are impressed with the need that is there for greater improvements. We must tear down much to make way for better traits and truer principles of conduct.

Never feel satisfied. This means stagnation. Let ideas guide you. But keep them fresh and new. Don't be afraid to drop worn out ideas.

The real builder at heart has no feelings when it comes to tearing down old structures. He sees only something better, something more durable and useful rising in their place. But when you tear down always be sure you have something better to put in the place of that which you demolish!

GETTING OLD

I always have thought of myself

as a kid,

But I can't grab a grounder the way

that I did.

I still feel as young as I ever have felt,

But I find I don't bend where I'm wearing my belt

As quickly and firmly and gracefully, too,

As a few years ago I was able to do.

I got in a game with the boys on the street,

And thought I was active and light

on my feet,

But I booted the grounders and fumbled the flies,

And I think that the keenness has gone from my eyes.

I looked at the hot ones and let 'em go by,

Which once I'd have grabbed as easy as pie.

I've thought that my mind was remarkably good,

But I can't run the bases the way that I could.

I tried to steal second. Oh, terrible shock!

A kid threw me out by a full city block.

The pride that I had met a horrible fall

The day when I thought that

I still could play ball.

I always have thought of myself

as a kid,

But I can't cover second the way

that I did.

And I notice a twinge in my arm

when I throw;

The heart still is young, but the legs have grown slow.

Oh, I think I'm a kid, but I'm forced to admit

That baseball is one game I am ready to quit.

Principals In Adolf Eichmann Trial

Justice Moshe Landau, right, presides over panel of three judges at the trial of former German SS officer Adolf Eichmann which opened today in Jerusalem. Others on the panel are Judge Benjamin Halevi, center, president of the Jerusalem district court, and Judge Ishak Raveh, left, of the Tel Aviv district court. (AP wirephoto) by closed circuit, and to a theater a block away where 700 people watched. The trial is being conducted in Hebrew, Israel's official language, with simultaneous translation into English, French and German. Small transistor radios, tunable to all four languages, were used by the spectators.

Sitting with Justice Landau are Benjamin Halevi, president of the Jerusalem District Court, and Ishak Raveh, president of the Tel Aviv District Court.

The opposing attorneys and their assistants sit at a long table directly in front of the judge's bench.

STANDS LIKE RAMROD

As the trial opened, Landau ordered Eichmann to rise and asked him if he was "Adolf Eichmann, son of Karl Adolf Eichmann."

"Ja wohl," the defendant replied, his voice steady and deep over the public address system.

Landau then began reading the massive indictment.

As he went along, Eichmann stood like a ramrod. His head was thrown slightly back, his square chin raised. Nothing showed in his face as the list of crimes with which he is charged was being read.

HAS RETULANT LOOK

After each numbered section of the indictment was read in Hebrew, the translation into German was read in open court.

Eichmann continued to stare at the bench. His thin lips were pressed tightly together, giving him a slightly petulant look.

He is of medium size, slim, bespectacled and bald. His nose is large, slightly crooked, with a sharp tip.

As he stood in the dock, peering through his spectacles toward the judges, he could see on the wall behind them a bronze Menorah, the ancient seven-armed Jewish candelabra that is part of the national emblem of Israel.

Correspondents came and went in relays during the reading of the indictment. With the translation into German, it took an hour and 10 minutes.

LOOKS TO BENCH

When he had finished, Landau asked Eichmann if he had understood. The prisoner indicated that he had.

"Tell him he may sit down," Landau said to the translator.

Eichmann took his seat, between two blue-uniformed Israeli policemen. He continued to look toward the bench.

At this point, Eichmann would have been asked for his plea—guilty or not guilty as charged in the indictment—but Servatius rose to challenge the legal basis of the trial.

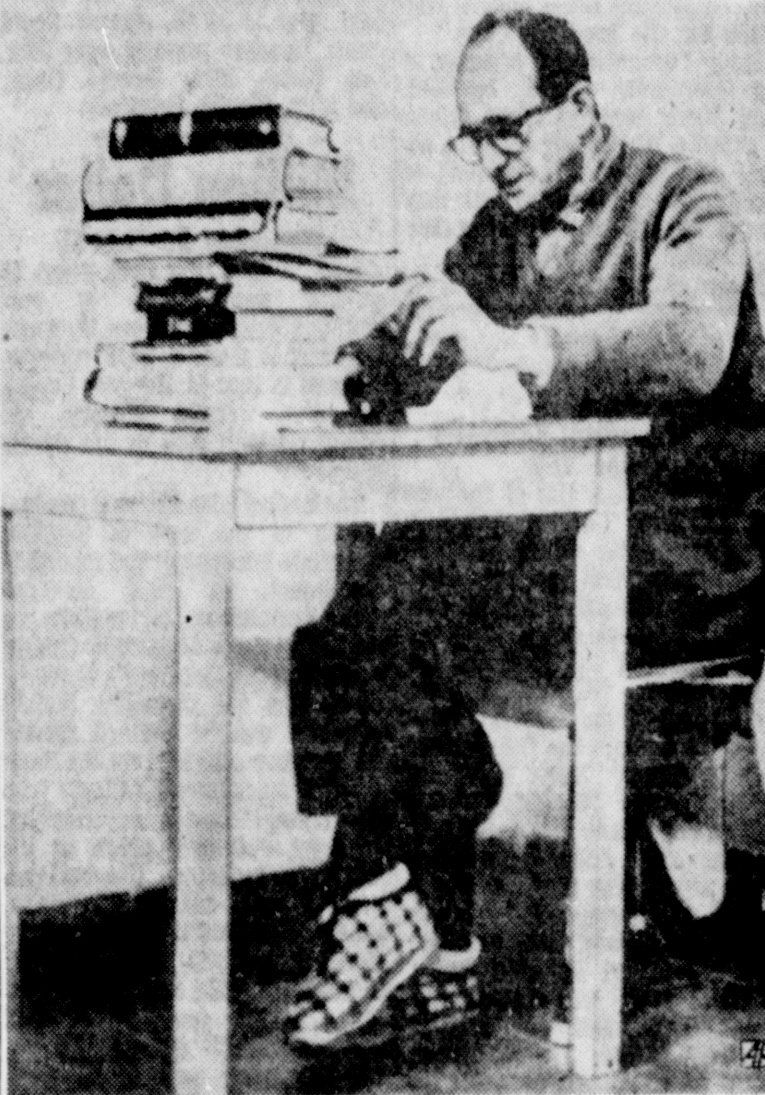

The West German lawyer is short, barrel-bodied, with gray hair and gold-rimmed spectacles. He was wearing a black robe and a white necktie. The prosecution lawyers wore black robes and black neckties.

QUESTIONS AUTHORITY

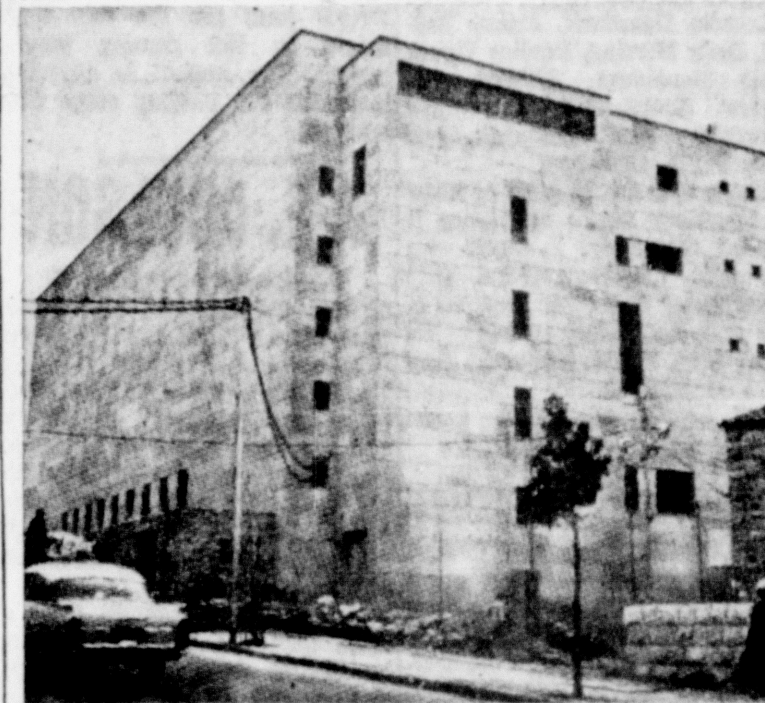

"Before he replies to the question of whether he is guilty or not," Servatius said, "I wish to examine matters of prejudice and the lack of authority of this court."

Eichmann turned to look at him. His hands were folded in his lap. His large, dark-rimmed spectacles gave him an owlish look.

Whenever there was a word from the bench, he would turn to look toward the bench. Then his eyes turned back toward Servatius.

Adolf Eichmann, former Nazi SS officer, is shown at a table stacked with books in his cell at an undisclosed place of confinement before he was transferred to the Jerusalem Communal Court (below) where he went on trial today charged with crimes against the Jews.

us, like a man watching a tennis game.

In a low but emphatic voice, Servatius said Eichmann should be tried by a German court, that no exceptional law is needed to try Eichmann—"such a law and such a court already exist in Germany."

DOUBTS FAIR TRIAL

He questioned whether Eichmann could get a fair trial in Israel because so many of its citizens may have lost one or more relatives during the war and because feelings run so deep.

"How can the accused expiate for what was done by a large part of the (German) people?" he asked. "Nor can he expiate what his government perpetrated. That government was involved in these actions and it is the state which is responsible."

Servatius pictured Eichmann as only an instrument of the Nazi leaders and said he was "dragged into these actions by the state."

Referring to the Nuremberg war crimes in 1946, Servatius said Eichmann was a much smaller figure than the men tried there.

"The accused here in this court does not belong to the same circle of leaders and he can't be measured by the same yardstick," he said.

Turning to the members of the court, the defense lawyer said, offenses took place and therefore was ex post facto, or retroactive. This, he said, was illegal.

CHARGE KIDNAPPING

The defense counsel also charged that Eichmann was kidnapped in Buenos Aires and brought to Israel on orders of the Israeli government, a charge the government has denied. Servatius charged that the kidnapping was illegal.

He read out a statement Eichmann had signed, agreeing to stand trial in Israel. Eichmann in the statement said he was acting "out of my own free will, not because of promises given nor because of threats." But Servatius said he reserved the right to bring proof that the statement was obtained under duress.

SENATE OKAYS
3 APPOINTEES

HARRISBURG (AP)—Appointments of three Democrats to major state posts were confirmed unanimously by the Senate Monday night.

Republicans did not voice a single objection as the body voted 50-0 to confirm Dr. John L. Dorris to the Public Utility Commission, E. James Trimarchi Jr. as secretary of the Commonwealth and Col. Malcolm Hay as adjutant general of the National Guard.

"We are prepared to confirm these appointments so the business of the various agencies might proceed on an orderly basis," said Sen. James S. Berger, the Republican floor leader.

Gov. Lawrence's office made immediate plans for swearing in of two cabinet officers. Trimarchi and Hay were to be given the oath today.

Dr. Dorris, a Nantcoke physician and Luzerne County Democratic chairman, will succeed Leon Schwartz, a Republican, whose 10-year term has expired. Dorris will receive 19,000 a year compared to his 12,500 annual salary as the chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Board.

Trimarchi, Indiana County Democratic leader and a member of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, succeeds John S. Rice who leaves April 27 to become U. S. ambassador to the Netherlands.

Trimarchi will receive 20,000 yearly in his new post. His turnpike term, which expires soon, had paid him 13,000 annually.

Col. Hay, a reserve officer, will take over the National Guard leadership from Maj. Gen. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, new U. S. ambassador to Spain. Hay also will be paid 20,000 a year.

The Senate also confirmed unanimously these justice of the peace appointments:

Harry R. Crawford, Abbotstown Adams County; Mrs. Edna L. Gilbert, Upper Strasburg, Franklin County; Mrs. Winifred B. Krider, Meadville, Crawford County; Joseph P. Zamulis, Edwardsville, Luzerne County, and Bernard F. Linn, Gettysburg.

Gettysburg High Given Approval To Join Blue Mountain Conference

Gettysburg High School, one of the charter members of the disappearing South Penn Conference, will become a member of the Blue Mountain League following approval by the Gettysburg Joint School Board Monday evening of a unanimous recommendation from the high school's athletic council.

The board's finance and planning committee had added its recommendation to that of the alumni council. The council's recommendation was submitted to the board in a letter from the council secretary, Paul R. Mehring.

The members of the Blue Mountain League include Big Spring, Shippensburg, Camp Hill, East Pennsburg, Boiling Springs, Susquehanna, Newport, Dillsburg and Biglerville.

In answer to questions from directors, Superintendent H. Edgar Riegle said:

START OF COLLAPSE

"Several years ago when Mechanicsburg, Hershey and Middletown pulled out of the South Penn Conference, most of us believed that was the beginning of the end for the South Penn. Waynesboro and Biglerville are out of the South Penn and that leaves only a four-team circuit and two of them are Chambersburg and Carlisle. Chambersburg is four times our size and Carlisle two and a half times. This invitation from Blue Mountain came along and there just wasn't any other place to go. We believe every possible effort was made to keep a more local conference in operation but there just weren't enough schools available.

"A team outside a league finds scheduling difficulties almost impossible to solve."

"The most distant team in the Blue Mountain League is Newport."

The new alignment will be effective in 1962, he said.

The board's approval of the recommendation was unanimous. A week ago the Upper Adams School Board took similar action with regard to Biglerville which has become a member of the Blue Mountain League.

CHICAGO HAS 2-1 LEAD IN STANLEY CUP

By DAVE DILES
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks are half-way home to their first Stanley Cup championship in 23 years, and Coach Rudy Pilous says two items — money and prestige — have the Hawks hungry enough to finish the job.

A 3-1 triumph over the Detroit Red Wings Monday night lifted the title-starved Hawks into a 2-1 edge in the best-of-seven struggle. The fourth game will be played in Detroit Wednesday night.

The Hawks, whose last claim on hockey's most coveted prize was in 1938, and who had gone 17 years without making the finals, trooped into their dressing room a band of tired but happy warriors.

SCORED IN 2ND PERIOD

The Hawks established their superiority early, although they could not break through Detroit goalie Hank Bassen until the second period was more than half over.

Then Stan Mikita turned in Bobby Hull's long shot at the goal mouth. Two and one-half minutes later, Ron Murphy split the Red Wing defense and snapped an 18-footer over Bassen's glove arm.

Four minutes later Murray Ball four pounded home Hull's rebound. The Red Wings, now trailing for the second time in the series, averted a shutout when Gordie Howe broke loose for a straight-on shot from a dozen feet midway through the third period.

MACHEN BEATS DEJOHN; EYES PATTERSON

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "I was asked to prove myself in order to get a shot at the championship," declared second-ranked heavyweight contender Eddie Machen.

"I think I did it." The Portland, Ore., boxer scored a clear-cut 10-round decision at the Cow Palace Monday night over a sluggish Mike DeJohn.

"There was a lot of pressure," Machen added. "I had everything to lose. Mike had everything to gain."

Last week, Tom Bolan, director of Feature Sports Inc., had said in New York that champion Floyd Patterson's next title defense would probably be against either Machen or England's Henry Cooper.

DeJohn, sixth-ranked contender from Syracuse, N. Y., weighing 216 to 211½ for Machen, staggered the Portland fighter with two right-hand shots in the fourth round.

Other than that, Eddie held the advantage. But several of the rounds were so slow the crowd of 6,073 that paid $1,347.50 boomed lustily.

Machen brought blood streaming from DeJohn's nose in the sixth round and lambasted him with solid lefts and rights. But he couldn't put the New Yorker down.

Late in the bout, sure of the decision, Machen boxed to keep out of trouble.

Referee Matt Zidich scored the fight 8-2, Judge Jack Silver 8-2 and Judge Johnny Lott 8-1. The Associated Press scored it 6-2. Under California scoring the winner of each round gets from one to five points, the loser none.

also voted to comply with a borough ordinance requiring a permit and payment of a fee in order to hold public entertainment programs.

Mr. Folkenroth invited directors to attend the grade school musicals in the high school auditorium Friday and next Friday evening.

The monthly report of the treasurer, the First National Bank, showed a general fund balance of only $4,358 after receipts of $65,338 and expenditures of $81,377.

The cafeteria operating reports were presented covering 22 days in March. The high school served an average of 25 adults and 863 pupils daily with a net profit of $501. At Eisenhower School there were served with a net profit of $167. At Keefe School there were 35 adults and 562 pupils served daily with a net loss of $253.

President Ralph W. Guise presided at the meeting with at least a majority of all member boards present. The meeting adjourned about 10:45 p.m. with a meeting of the property committee following and a meeting of the teacher and curriculum committee before the joint board session.

maximum is reached. The administrative assistant will have the same tenure status as teachers and will be next to the superintendent in staff organization.

ELECT TEACHER

One elementary teacher was elected Monday evening on recommendation of the teacher and curriculum committee. She is Miss Bonnie Youkers, who will graduate this spring from Thiel College. She will be paid the regular starting salary of $3,800.

Summer classes again will be offered in reading and typing and possibly other subjects if there is enough demand, the board decided. The setup will be the same as last summer when pupils were given reading and typing instruction on a tuition basis at no cost to the school district except for making the building facilities available.

The board also approved plans for another summer class in behind-the-wheel driver training with John O'Brien as teacher and with the school district bearing the cost. The district in turn will be reimbursed by the state for the full cost of the course. It was pointed out that the summer class offers the driver training to pupils unable to schedule it during the regular school year.

LET SUPPLIES' CONTRACT

The board opened bids and awarded contracts for general and art supplies. The only bidder for art supplies, the J. L. Hammett Company, was given the contract at $4,351 while Roberts and Meek got the contract for general supplies at $7,880, the lower of two offers received.

The directors approved routine resolutions providing for shifts of funds within departments of the current budget to cover unexpected expenditures in some area and Business Manager Kenneth G. Reinhart Jr. urged member districts to make current payments in the joint district treasury to bolster a low balance.

The board gave permission for the South Central PTA conference to use the Keefeauver building for a regional meeting on April 29. The high school alumni were given permission to use the cafeteria and gymnasium for their annual banquet and dance May 29 and the County Cancer Society was granted use of the cafeteria next Monday evening for a dinner meeting. Summer use of Keefeauver and Eisenhower School grounds for recreation purposes also was granted.

APPROVE SCHOOL PLANS

Superintendent H. Edgar Riegle asked the directors for their reservations for the annual directors' dinner of the South Penn Study Council to be held at Chambersburg on April 25. About a half dozen indicated they expect to attend.

Supt. Riegle announced that the architects for the new high school unit soon will be ready for new conferences with the finance and planning committee. Official approval of the preliminary plans has been secured at Harrisburg and the board had the first bill from the architect for his services on the project. It was for $14,250 and was ordered paid.

The superintendent also reminded boards of the need for completing the new joint school agreement soon. A meeting of the joint school committee, charged with preparing the agreement for submission to the joint board, is expected before the next board meeting.

Mr. Riegle said he will be in Harrisburg today and Wednesday at the invitation of the state superintendent of public instruction for a curriculum conference.

BILLS ARE APPROVED

Bills for current operation totaling $6,213 were approved for payment but some directors asked for more information or a report on results as they approved for payment a $3,318 bill from the high school architects for core borings on the site of the new school.

The board referred to the property committee a letter from K. O. Deardorff and Son about school insurance business. The board

Senators Lose Opener; 16 Other Teams To Open Today

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The 1961 major league baseball season opens today on all fronts following Monday's sneak preview in the nation's capital where the Chicago White Sox downed the Washington Senators 4-3.

Weather permitting, all eight National League teams and the rest of the 10-club American League circuit, after a month of preliminaries, begin their long battle for championship honors.

In the National League, St. Louis opens at Milwaukee, Chicago at Cincinnati, Pittsburgh at San Francisco and Philadelphia at Los Angeles. All are daylight affairs except in Los Angeles, which plays nearly all its games at night. In the American, Minnesota is at New York, Los Angeles at Baltimore, Kansas City at Poston and Cleveland at Detroit. Chicago and Washington have a day off.

USUAL PROBLEMS

More than the usual problems confront the majors this year because of the American League's bold expansion from eight to 10 clubs. The National, committed to add New York and Houston next year, undoubtedly will be awaiting developments, along with millions of fans throughout the country.

In the meantime, numerous other questions await answers. Here are some of them:

1. Will the New York Yankees be as successful under their new manager, Ralph Houk, as they were under Casey Stengel?

2. Are the Los Angeles Dodgers' rookie phenoms — Willie Davis, Charlie Smith, Ron Perrano, Doug Camilli — really that good?

3. Have the Baltimore kids really grown up?

SIX TOO OLD

4. Can Frank Bolling and Roy McMillan offset Milwaukee's loss of outfielder Bill Bruton and pitchers Joey Jay and Juan Pizarro?

5. Are the Chicago White Sox too old?

6. Can Dick Groat, last year's batting champion, most valuable player and Pittsburgh's inspirational leader, lead the Pirates to another flag?

7. Will Johnny Antonelli find himself in Cleveland?

8. Will Alvin Dark, San Francisco's new manager, restore teamwork among the Giants?

9. Can new manager Bob Schefling shake the Detroit Tigers out of their lethargy?

MUSIAL QUIT?

10. Should Stan Musial, after 20 glorious seasons with the St. Louis Cardinals, have retired?

DONOVAN GOOD IN FIRST ROLE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Chicago White Sox now have seen Dick Donovan in enemy costume, and what they've seen they like.

Donovan, shuffled off from Chicago in the American League's expansion draft, was the losing pitcher as his Washington Senators dropped a 4-3 opening game to the White Sox Monday.

But it was no fault of Donovan's that President Kennedy and 26,725 paying patrons attended a defeat in the new Senators' major league debut.

It was rather the fault of extravagant hospitality on the part of Washington's latest American League entry. The Senators committed four errors.

2 ON 1 PLAY

Three — two on one play, by first baseman Dale Long — contributed to the unearned runs which Chicago squared matters in the seventh and clinched the game in the eighth.

Donovan allowed only six hits. The 33-year-old right-hander, who was omitted from Chicago's starting rotation last year, has seldom been more effective.

"If he's going to pitch that way, I wish we had him back," said Sox Manager Al Lopez.

Roy Sievers was Chicago's hero, smashing a home run into the center field bleachers and batting in the winning run with a sacrifice fly to deep center.

Frank Baumann, who followed starter Early Wynn and Russ Kemmerer, received the victory. Wynn, the well-seasoned veteran, lasted only two innings — the innings in which the Senators scored all their runs.

SHARMAN AND SANDERS LEAD BOSTON CELTS

By BOB HOOBING

BOSTON (AP) — Bill Sharman, nearing the end of a remarkable career, and rookie Tom Sanders are two important reasons Boston is favored to win the National Basketball Association playoffs tonight.

Seeking their fourth title in five years, the Celtics meet the always dangerous St. Louis Hawks at Boston Garden just one victory away from their goal. Boston leads the best-of-seven final series 3-1.

"Sharman is having his greatest all-around playoff series since he's been in the NBA (11 years)," said Coach Red Auerbach after Sunday's 119-104 triumph at St. Louis.

DEFENSIVE PLAY GOOD

His defensive play has been the best ever, currently holding the most dangerous Hawks' backcourt man, rookie Lenny Wilkens, four points below the latter's season average. The most accurate foul shooter in professional annals also is shaking loose for his patented jumpers and one handed sets.

Ignored by the other NBA clubs and faced with the improbable task of even occupying bench space on a championship squad, Satch Sanders from New York University "has come into his own when we need him the most," says Auerbach.

Sanders hasn't been able to stop St. Louis' Bob Pettit or Syracuse's Dolph Schayes cold but he has kept them busy.

"Being asked to guard men like Pettit has done the most to help my confidence," admits Sanders whose 22 points ruined the Hawks Sunday.

"This gang of mine won't quit," warned Hawks' Coach Paul Seymour. "They'll be loose, too, figuring they have nothing to lose now."

CASTRO FEARS INVASION BY HIS ENEMIES

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

HAVANA (AP) — Amid reliable but unconfirmed reports of increasing rebel activity in the mountains of Cuba, there were growing indications today the Castro regime may be quietly mobilizing anti-invasion defenses again.

The controlled press and radio maintained a blackout on reports from the United States that exiled Cuban liberation forces are grooming for an invasion of this Caribbean island.

But though Prime Minister Fidel Castro has not given a public invasion alert, the atmosphere was more tense than at any time in the history of the two-year old revolutionary government.

TROOPS ARE ACTIVE

Travelers and other sources reported particularly heavy government troop movements in three provinces: Westernmost Pinar del Rio, eastern Oriente and in central Las Villas, whose northern coastal keys are 150 miles from anti-Castro forces in Florida.

Militiamen were reported digging trenches along the north coast highway from Havana east to Matanzas and along the southern coast of Pinar del Rio.

The government radio however, reported welcoming parties for militiamen returning home after "smashing counter-revolutionary worms" in the Escambray Mountains of Las Villas.

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The U.N. Command today demanded immediate return of 43 South Korean fishermen and six boats it charged North Korean Communists seized off Korea's east coast Friday.

LITTLESTOWN HI ATHLETES ARE LAUDED

Littlestown High School athletes were honored by the Eagles Lodge and the VFW post at a banquet in the Eagles home, Littlestown, Monday evening. Pete Carlissimo, athletic director at the University of Scranton, told the athletes to "pick up the ball and play the game of life, after you are out of school."

DO CLASS WORK

Carlissimo said he considers sports an integral part of any school "and it takes a good administration to provide the leadership," in recognizing the principals and coaches of Littlestown High School.

He said that youngsters learn things playing sports they don't learn in books. "And if you sacrifice these sports, you will be losing a good deal that you could never learn in any textbook."

Carlissimo said that athletes have to make an all-out effort in their studies because they must realize their potential in the classroom as well as on the gridiron.

He said, "Democracy is like a grid team, and the greatness we enjoy can be attributed to sports as we have them here in America." The director said that, if there would be sports on an international basis, "maybe they could provide the understanding we need in the world today. By nature, people are essentially the same, only the leaders are corrupt. And by learning to respect the traits and characteristics that seem strange to us, we will find that they are not so strange."

Claudio Evans, athletic director at Littlestown High School, acted as toastmaster. He introduced Principal Frank Basehoar who thanked the VFW and Eagles on behalf of the school and expressed his thanks to the members of the team, faculty and parents who made the year a successful one.

Grid Coach Ron Lawhead introduced members of his football team which won the Laurel League championship with a 9-0-1 record. He paid a special recognition to Gene Apple who was selected to the all-conference and Big 33 teams. He praised Bill Bowers, another all-conference selection. Lawhead said, "This is the finest group of boys I've ever coached in four years of high school."

Snubs Bid For Congo Truce; Embassy Personnel Attacked

By ANTOINE YARED Associated Press correspondent
STANLEYVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The army chief of the Stanleyville government, Gen. Victor Lundula, Monday snubbed a bid from Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu of the Leopoldville government for a military truce.
Lundula said he would hold out until the Stanleyville government headed by Antoine Gizenga and the Leopoldville government reach political agreement.
Mobutu flew from Leopoldville to neighboring Equator Province Sunday, hoping to open negotiations with Lundula on the border of Oriental Province, of which Stanleyville is the capital.

AMERICAN ATTACKED
In Leopoldville, the Congolese army expressed formal regret for two attacks on U. S. Embassy personnel Sunday at a roadblock 20 miles out of the capital. They promised immediate disciplinary action against Congolese soldiers who hit an American and tore the American flag off an embassy car.
Tom Rodda of Alexandria, Va., visual aids officer for the U. S. Information Agency, was pulled from his car and struck.
Rodda's wife, Frances Irma, and their son, David Lee, 14, were also forced out of the car but were not touched.
Later at the same roadblock the soldiers tore the flag off a car driven by the acting deputy chief of the U. S. mission, Daniel Margolies. But he and an agricultural attaché, Charalambos Stephanides who was with him, were not molested.
In Elisabethville, the Katanga government told the United Nations it was sorry about a shooting at Kabalo last Friday in which a U. N. Ethiopian soldier was killed.

PRO-WESTERN CANDIDATE WINS ELECTION

By JOHN GRIFFIN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Pro-Western President Ngo Dinh Diem won re-election by an even bigger margin than expected Monday as voters rejected Communist attempts to sabotage South Viet Nam's first democratic-style national election.
The 60-year-old bachelor president polled well over 80 per cent of the vote cast and showed his greatest strength in the hotbed of Red rebel terrorism—the swamps and rice lands of the Mekong River delta southwest of Saigon. He racked up better than 90 per cent of the vote in this region.
The Sunday voting apparently went off peacefully, without a single major incident. One grenade throwing and an ambush — with no casualties — were reported in the south.
Officials estimated about 70 per cent of the nation's 7.2 million voters cast ballots Sunday after a campaign marked by increasing terrorist attacks by the Viet Cong Communists.
One official said the Communists had suffered serious losses in clashes with government forces in the last two weeks and now they had lost face by failing to carry out their threat to sabotage the election. But the Communists remained a formidable foe, and most observers believe the quiet was only a lull—that the Viet Cong remains as determined as ever to overthrow Diem's government, whose most powerful ally is the United States.

ANTI-CASTRO PILOTS GO TO TRAINING SITE
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—More than 35 anti-Castro airplane pilots were reported headed for a secret training camp today to heed a call by the Cuban Revolutionary Council for a "second war of liberation."

The pilots, including some formerly associated with Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista, reportedly left Miami Sunday for a secret training camp, probably in Central America.
Family members and friends said the men were stripped of their clothing and identification, given uniforms and told to say their goodbyes before being spirited out of the United States.
"SECOND WAR"
It was the first time so-called "Batistianos" were reported to have joined forces against Prime Minister Fidel Castro. Those with Batista ties previously had been excluded from major revolutionary organizations.
The call for a "second war of liberation" was sounded by Dr. Jose Miro Cardona, president of the anti-Castro Cuban Revolutionary Council in New York. He said his country is occupied by "a foreign army at the service of those who betrayed the revolution."

GIVES WARNING
Miro Cardona refused to discuss any timetable for possible landings on Cuban soil or strength of the invasion forces. He said when these forces become active inside Cuba they will number six million, embracing "all of Cuba."

Reports from Havana said government-controlled radio stations and newspapers ignored Miro Cardona's call.

In a nationwide TV talk Sunday, Castro repeated earlier warnings that insurgent bands and expeditionary forces invading Cuba would be liquidated. He did not refer directly to the latest call to arms against his regime.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mortimer M. Caplin, commissioner of internal revenue, says the government gave Sgt. Alvin York "no special advantage" in setting his tax bill at $25,000.

York, 73, broke and in ill health, had been in income tax difficulty for several years because of income he received from a book and a motion picture based on his life and war exploits. The government finally agreed to settle the bill for $25,000 and the money was raised in a nationwide campaign.

Snubs Bid For Congo Truce; Embassy Personnel Attacked

By ANTOINE YARED Associated Press correspondent
STANLEYVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The army chief of the Stanleyville government, Gen. Victor Lundula, Monday snubbed a bid from Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu of the Leopoldville government for a military truce.
Lundula said he would hold out until the Stanleyville government headed by Antoine Gizenga and the Leopoldville government reach political agreement.
Mobutu flew from Leopoldville to neighboring Equator Province Sunday, hoping to open negotiations with Lundula on the border of Oriental Province, of which Stanleyville is the capital.

AMERICAN ATTACKED
In Leopoldville, the Congolese army expressed formal regret for two attacks on U. S. Embassy personnel Sunday at a roadblock 20 miles out of the capital. They promised immediate disciplinary action against Congolese soldiers who hit an American and tore the American flag off an embassy car.
Tom Rodda of Alexandria, Va., visual aids officer for the U. S. Information Agency, was pulled from his car and struck.
Rodda's wife, Frances Irma, and their son, David Lee, 14, were also forced out of the car but were not touched.
Later at the same roadblock the soldiers tore the flag off a car driven by the acting deputy chief of the U. S. mission, Daniel Margolies. But he and an agricultural attaché, Charalambos Stephanides who was with him, were not molested.
In Elisabethville, the Katanga government told the United Nations it was sorry about a shooting at Kabalo last Friday in which a U. N. Ethiopian soldier was killed.

PRO-WESTERN CANDIDATE WINS ELECTION

By JOHN GRIFFIN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Pro-Western President Ngo Dinh Diem won re-election by an even bigger margin than expected Monday as voters rejected Communist attempts to sabotage South Viet Nam's first democratic-style national election.
The 60-year-old bachelor president polled well over 80 per cent of the vote cast and showed his greatest strength in the hotbed of Red rebel terrorism—the swamps and rice lands of the Mekong River delta southwest of Saigon. He racked up better than 90 per cent of the vote in this region.
The Sunday voting apparently went off peacefully, without a single major incident. One grenade throwing and an ambush — with no casualties — were reported in the south.
Officials estimated about 70 per cent of the nation's 7.2 million voters cast ballots Sunday after a campaign marked by increasing terrorist attacks by the Viet Cong Communists.
One official said the Communists had suffered serious losses in clashes with government forces in the last two weeks and now they had lost face by failing to carry out their threat to sabotage the election. But the Communists remained a formidable foe, and most observers believe the quiet was only a lull—that the Viet Cong remains as determined as ever to overthrow Diem's government, whose most powerful ally is the United States.

ANTI-CASTRO PILOTS GO TO TRAINING SITE
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—More than 35 anti-Castro airplane pilots were reported headed for a secret training camp today to heed a call by the Cuban Revolutionary Council for a "second war of liberation."

The pilots, including some formerly associated with Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista, reportedly left Miami Sunday for a secret training camp, probably in Central America.
Family members and friends said the men were stripped of their clothing and identification, given uniforms and told to say their goodbyes before being spirited out of the United States.
"SECOND WAR"
It was the first time so-called "Batistianos" were reported to have joined forces against Prime Minister Fidel Castro. Those with Batista ties previously had been excluded from major revolutionary organizations.
The call for a "second war of liberation" was sounded by Dr. Jose Miro Cardona, president of the anti-Castro Cuban Revolutionary Council in New York. He said his country is occupied by "a foreign army at the service of those who betrayed the revolution."

GIVES WARNING
Miro Cardona refused to discuss any timetable for possible landings on Cuban soil or strength of the invasion forces. He said when these forces become active inside Cuba they will number six million, embracing "all of Cuba."

Reports from Havana said government-controlled radio stations and newspapers ignored Miro Cardona's call.

In a nationwide TV talk Sunday, Castro repeated earlier warnings that insurgent bands and expeditionary forces invading Cuba would be liquidated. He did not refer directly to the latest call to arms against his regime.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mortimer M. Caplin, commissioner of internal revenue, says the government gave Sgt. Alvin York "no special advantage" in setting his tax bill at $25,000.

York, 73, broke and in ill health, had been in income tax difficulty for several years because of income he received from a book and a motion picture based on his life and war exploits. The government finally agreed to settle the bill for $25,000 and the money was raised in a nationwide campaign.

Riding with Russell

by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL

Those crossroads ahead are not half as dangerous as the cross drivers you may meet.

Breaking up the special services the car needs as we progress through springtime has every advantage over the plan of making a federal case out of the job of lumping together too much work. Some of the attentions the car needs can best be done early; some late. In installments less that is important is likely to be overlooked.

Some motorists need transportation so urgently they feel they cannot lay up the car for more than a day or two. Thus if too much work is scheduled at one time the chances are that some of it will have to be skipped over lightly or crossed off altogether. This has its obvious hazards.

But when springtime servicing is done in installments every care should be taken to do it in proper sequence. Your mechanic can help here. He will suggest an agenda whereby you can put first things first. Safety will also be given priority.

START WITH NEW TIRES

Among things that disturb front-end experts who are trying to help motorists obtain better steering and freedom from shimmy is the habit of insisting on having wheels balanced before installing new tires. This is really putting the cart before the horse. It is like trying for a first-class motor tune-up when compression is both low and varied because of need for new rings.

Start with new tires and the end result will be smooth going. A common mistake is to assume that any balancing done on the wheels with old tires will serve equally well with the new rubber. That isn't the way it works out because the old tires are worn in various ways and will need balance-weight corrections which won't be appropriate with the new tires.

A flat spot in pick-up is so often a case of the carburetor's acceleration pump needing rebuilding few motorists think to consider the possibility of ignition trouble. Yet this sort of trouble often is electrical in nature. It can happen if the pigtail wires in the distributor housing are broken inside their insulation. Sometimes the distributor housing is found to be worn to a point where the plate tends to move sideways when it is being turned back and forth by action of the vacuum advance mechanism. The flat spot results from the erratic ignition.

MECHANIC JOE SPEAKING:

"Since one of the chief causes of low generator output is a dirty commutator what's wrong with doing a little housecleaning? If the unit has a cover band this is easily loosened for inspection of the commutator. Cleaning is first a matter of applying some cleaning fluid with a cloth. Wipe dry and then brighten up the commutator with a strip of fine sandpaper. Hold it over a small wood block with a square edge that is perfectly smooth, and turn the generator. Use a tire pump to blow out all dust before you replace the band."

IN THE MOTOR MAIL

Q. The overdrive on my car won't engage. We have checked the usual possibilities. N. L.

A. How about a slipping governor drive pinion?

Q. What is the name of the car some believe should be considered the first American gas car? W. P. T.

A. The Lambert car of 1891. It was made in Ohio City, Ohio.

Q. The right front tire of my car has a very scuffed tread. There has been no underinflation. Front-end alignment seems to be normal. F. S.

A. I suspect a bent steering arm.

A. The clutch on my car occasionally chatters when engaging it. If this were chronic I would suspect that oil is leaking into the clutch housing from the rear of the engine. Weather conditions seem to have no role in this condition. L. McV.

A. I would check over the clutch linkage as there probably is a little binding here.

Q. I can't open the crankcase oil drain and wonder what can be done for an oil change other than taking down the pan (which is a job on this car) and welding the collar which now turns with the drain plug. P. R. S.

A. Some mechanics use a special suction pump for draining engines. The suction tube goes into the oil filler pipe or in one of the crankcase vents.

Q. A friend of mine gets better uphill performance with his car. Both cars are the same year, make and model. He claims he has not had any special equipment added. J. J. G.

A. His car probably has a lower rear axle ratio. With the engine turning over more times per mile WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt, who died 16 years ago Wednesday, wouldn't have trouble recognizing the world today. He helped shape it, the good and the terrible.

There are similarities, and differences, between him and President Kennedy. But much the latter is trying to do would hardly be possible without Roosevelt.

Roosevelt's early view of the world was more limited than Kennedy's. But the latter can thank Roosevelt for helping make his broader.

Before he died Roosevelt laid the groundwork for creation of both the United Nations and the atom bomb, the former a landmark in man's efforts for the good of mankind, the latter man's most terrible achievement.

MARCH OF REDS

Of all that has happened in these 16 years perhaps only two developments might surprise Roosevelt: the aggressive march of communism, which until World War II had stayed inside its own frontiers, and the freedom of colonial people.

By the time Roosevelt ran for the presidency in 1932 the country was sunk in depression. Even the car is capable of better uphill performance. His top speed is lower than your car and he doesn't get as good gas mileage.

Q. Will new leaf springs settle after being installed? N. P. F.

A. They will settle a little but you will not notice it.

Q. Is it still possible to buy wood spoke automobile wheels? F.W.

A. Yes. You'll see them advertised in antique car magazines.

Q. The power seat of my car won't work. Now what? T. McM.

A. On your car the system is the Hydro-Electric type. Probably the hydraulic fluid supply is low.

Q. There's a peculiar rubbing noise which I am sure comes from the automatic transmission. There is plenty of oil. It seems to be in any position of the selector lever when the car is moving. K. T.

A. In this system the chances are that the front pump is worn.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him care of the Gettysburg Times and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. Please confine inquiries to one subject and limit letters to 100 words or less.

so he was not clear on how to handle it. He worked that out later.

In his San Francisco Commonwealth Club speech of Sept. 3, 1932—he said America was no longer a place of endless opportunity where a man could head west and settle on new, free land. There was no more frontier, he said, because the Pacific had been reached.

"OUR LAST FRONTIER"

These were some of his words: "The turn of the tide came with the turn of the century. Our last frontier has long since been reached."

This was strictly a man thinking in national terms only. He later led the country into internationalism.

Kennedy, 28 years later, also spoke of a frontier—but not the last one.

In accepting the Democratic nomination at Los Angeles last July 15, Kennedy said: "The problems are not all solved and the battles are not all won and we stand today on the edge of a new frontier."

"WORLDWIDE CHALLENGE"

Kennedy now was talking about the worldwide challenge of the future. Later, in his inaugural speech of Jan. 20, 1961, Kennedy picked the word "tide," which Roosevelt had used, to say it was "running out" on us.

But it was Roosevelt's thinking—developed the hard way, by trial and error, during the years of his presidency—which makes it possible now for Kennedy to think as he does and with such self-assurance in such fields as foreign aid (Roosevelt started it with lend-lease) and the recognition that the government has responsibility for the general welfare (Roosevelt accomplished this with Supreme Court backing in such fields as Social Security and unemployment pay).

EXTENSIONS OF FDR

All this had become an accepted part of American life by the time Kennedy ran for the presidency. His programs in one form or another are extensions of Roosevelt's programs, for example his request for medical care for the aged under Social Security and extended unemployment pay.

By the time Roosevelt died this country, no longer self-centered, had shaken off isolation and had entered deeply through war into international cooperation.

Kennedy is extending that and elaborating upon it, just as Presidents Truman and Eisenhower did.

The relief programs Roosevelt created for the hungry and jobless at home, over some intense opposition, were simply an early form of the Truman-Eisenhower-Kennedy foreign aid programs for backward peoples.

Thus Roosevelt, feeling his way and without a clear philosophy on it when he first took office, worked out basic policies, both domestic and foreign, which are still basic.

Scientists who discover a new element traditionally have the honor of naming it. In recent years Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg and his associates at the University of California, Berkeley, have detected and named americium, californium and berkelium.

BIG BATTLE FOR SAVINGS ON IN NATION

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The battle to get you to save a dollar is growing about as keen as the drive to get you to spend it. And more and more you have the choice of taking your dollar to the saving institution of your choice or letting your boss do it for you.

The latter is supposed to be the painless way of getting a bond or an insurance policy—as painless, that is, as paying your income tax or providing a pension. Uncle Sam urges you to save with him — by buying savings bonds and holding on to them and has sweetened the return to tempt you. You can buy the bonds at a bank or through payroll deductions. At the same time Uncle Sam is making a bit more money available for consumer spending to nudge the economy out of stagnation and back to growth. Save or spend, either way you're a hero to some official.

MANY ENTICEMENTS
Private shepherds for your savings vie with each other to get you to darken their particular door or save through payroll plans. Various institutions entice new customers with premiums, such as household articles.

Commercial and mutual savings banks have raised the interest they pay on deposits, in many cases as high as various laws will allow.

Savings and loan associations have raised interest rates—especially in growing West Coast communities where demand for loans is pressing. They advertise their higher yields in East Coast papers where rates are lower.

on savings so that the associations can lower mortgage charges as a spur to more home building. Credit unions have been growing steadily—and meeting competition from in-plant savings and lending plans of banks.

Mutual funds and insurance companies have been singing the praises of their own form of investing your savings as preferable to the other's.

PAYROLL DEDUCTIONS
Just now the insurance companies are boasting of big gains in the payroll deduction way of taking out insurance. Individuals buy life insurance through their office or plant.

In 1949 such salary savings came to $300 million. In 1959 more than $1.5 billion was put on the books this way. The Institute of Life Insurance estimates that in 1960 the sum topped $2 billion, with more than 30,000 companies providing such service — 6,000 of them for the first time last year. A pioneer in the field, Equitable Life Assurance Society, says in 1960 its sales of salary savings insurance on 21,500 policies topped $125 million, up five fold in 10 years. Equitable's pioneer plan was for employees of the New York Telephone Company in the mid-1920s.

DEDUCT PREMIUMS
Increasingly active in the field are such companies as New York Life, John Hancock, Penn Mutual, Metropolitan, Travelers, Phoenix Mutual, Aetna, Connecticut General, Prudential and Shenandoah. In all 116 companies include such plans in their portfolios.

A similar allotment plan is available to members of the armed forces through representatives of private insurance companies who have permission to solicit sales on military bases. The government deducts the insurance premiums.

COSTLY WINTER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Association of American Railroads estimates that the Eastern Class 1 railroads lost $27 million last February, mainly because of severe winter weather.

The AAR added Monday that the eastern railroads had net earnings of $3 million in February 1960 and $2 million in February 1959.

Class 1 railroads are those having $3 million or more operating revenues annually.

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—Crawford H. Greenwalt, president of E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Co. Inc., predicts that this year's sales will better the company's record last year of $2,143,000,000. Greenwalt told the Du Pont annual meeting Monday that his prediction was based on the assumption that the second quarter of the year will see an end to the business slump, and that there will be a reasonable upturn in the last half.

TOO TALL FOR PAREE—JUST RIGHT FOR U. S.

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Too tall for Paree, Michele Garardon looks just right for Hollywood. Michele stands a well-proportioned 5 feet 8. That is not towering by American standards, but her height makes her an oddity in her native France. A beautiful oddity.

"Most French actresses are tiny, with little wistful faces," she sighs. "As you can see, I'm not like that at all: I look more like a Scandinavian."

"There doesn't seem to be any room for me in French films or plays. I have done only three movies there. Many times when I am up for a role, I do fine until the leading man sees me. Then he turns me down because I am taller than he."

PLAYS IN HATARI
France's loss, Paramount's gain, Michele was signed for a leading role in the African epic "Hatari." Though her deal is only for a picture a year, Hollywood may claim her permanently. Michele admitted she wouldn't mind.

"I'm tired of Paris," she said. Michele indicated she was weary of the Paris movie crowd, too. Her reflection: "It's the same small bunch of people. They make the same movies about the same things — the things they talk about."

What is Michele like? "She's the Ingrid Bergman type," says director Howard Hawks, who discovered her. That isn't bad, but close resemblance to a star can blight a newcomer's career. Does that worry Michele?

"I don't mind if people think I look like Miss Bergman from a distance," she said. "I do mind if they think I look like her up close. I don't think I do."

Matter of fact, she also has the look of Grace Kelly, especially when she puts her cheaters on. If that combination can't succeed in Hollywood, what can?

To Install Nuclear System On Cruiser

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Philadelphia Naval Shipyard has been chosen to install a new electronic system on the nuclear-powered cruiser, Long Beach.

Secretary of the Navy John B. Connally Jr., announced Monday that the work is scheduled to begin next year. The shipyard already has been designing the system, which will locate a target, identify it and pick missiles or other weapons to destroy it. The Navy did not mention the cost of the system.

York Springs

MRS. F. E. COULSON

YORK SPRINGS — A meeting for boys and parents who are interested in Little League baseball will be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the elementary school to organize a program for this season. All interested boys from 8 to 12 years of age are asked to attend accompanied by a parent. The meeting was originally scheduled for Tuesday night.

Mrs. Samuel Humerick was removed to the Warner Hospital Friday in the York Springs ambulance for X-rays of the hip which she fractured several months ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shearer and children moved Friday to a home which they purchased near Thomasville. The Shearers have sold their farm to Mr. and Mrs. D. Green, Boiling Springs. Mrs. Green is the former Donna Gembe.

The Bermudian Springs History Club will sponsor a skating party at the Mary Jane skating rink Saturday night from 8 to 11 p.m.

The York Springs Boy Scouts will not conduct their paper drive as previously announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nye and four sons moved from Dillsburg R. D. to the Wagner apartments. "Your Candidate for School Director" was discussed at the recent meeting of the York Springs Elementary PTA in the school. Jack Hershey, Donald Miller, Latimore Twp., and Rev. Donald Roemer, York Springs, presented their position of a school director. Supervising Principal Rev. Amos D. Meyers also spoke briefly.

Elementary Principal Charles Phillips displayed the library books recently purchased by PTA funds. It was announced that the May Day observance will be held in the York Springs School May 4.

The attendance award was won by Miss Hoover's Eight Grade room. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Paul Lehmer, Mrs. Robert Bolger and Mrs. Gerald Blocher.

WINE TESTING IS ACADEMIC TO PROFESSOR

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Maynard Amerine, a distinguished scholar with sherry-colored hair and Madeira-colored eyes, has an unusual academic chore. Each year he must taste test some 1,500 different lots of wine. "But in the daytime—from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.—I never swallow any," he said.

The testing is one of the duties that falls to Amerine as director of the University of California's Department of Oenology, or wine making.

HAS OWN WINERY
The department operates its own winery and 150 acres of vineyards stocked with more than 1,000 varieties of grapes. It also is pioneering in the development of automatic grape harvesting.

Its 50 students come from all parts of the world, including such famed wine centers as France, Germany and Portugal.

At the end of the year Amerine, who can easily identify 100 kinds of wine, expects his senior students to be able to classify by taste, color and aroma at least 25 of the popular wines.

DON'T DRINK WINE
The students don't get to drink the wine. They merely sit in cubicles and sniff and taste the samples—then expectorate them, as does a professional tester.

A course in wine making might sound like a collegiate boondoggle to the uninitiated. It isn't.

"We don't have the problem of the smart alec student looking for a snap subject. Before enrolling our students have to have 16 units of chemistry, 8 units of physics and 9 units of math, including calculus," Amerine said.

ELIMINATE MANY
"The requirements are so stiff they eliminate all except the serious students, those really interested in finding a career in the wine industry."

The department spends nearly a million dollars a year in teaching and research. It is currently conducting perhaps the most active grape breeding project in the world.

To Amerine, oenology is more than a mere academic pursuit. To

U.S. Tells Space Meeting It Plans TV Camera On Moon

By EUGENE LEVIN

FLORENCE, Italy (AP)—The United States Monday informed an international space meeting of plans to land a television camera on the moon to send views back to earth.

Richard Porter, U.S. delegate to an international space science symposium here, also reported on American efforts to put a man into orbit under Project Mercury. He said the lunar landing and a manned orbital flight may be attempted this year.

Porter is a member of the Space Science Board of the National Academy of Science in Washington. He outlined U.S. space plans at the opening session of the five-day symposium.

His report covered work on Project Ranger, designed to land an instrument capsule on the moon.

GET VISUAL RECORD

The TV camera will send back a visual record of the descent, he said, and the capsule will be separated from the rocket after the television operation is completed and before the landing.

Instruments in the capsule, Porter said, will operate for one to three months and will send back measurements of seismic activity on the moon to help determine the origin of the moon and the nature of its structure.

Project Mercury is designed to put a manned satellite into orbit more than 100 miles above the earth. The satellite would circle the earth three times. Then the astronaut would try for a safe return to the earth.

Porter's report also noted that the United States is preparing a mariner space craft to pass within 31,000 miles of Venus and plans to launch a dozen satellites this year.

When malaria mosquitoes penetrated Greece in 400 B. C., the brilliance of early European civilization began to dim. Records show that Greek farmers fled from marshy regions, causing food shortages that contributed to the decline of national well-being.

State Ponders More Money For Education And System Of Community Junior Schools

(Editor's note: In its recommendations for higher education, Gov. Lawrence's Committee on Education puts forth the most significant new programs for the state. The details are discussed in the following article.)

By FRED WALTERS
HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania government never has resolved the question of how much commitment it should make to higher education.

Thus, in this area, Gov. Lawrence's Committee on Education was like an expedition to Antarctica, faced with vast uncharted regions to explore.

Its proposals, if adopted, would approximately quadruple state spending for post-high school education in this decade; it would recast the mold of the 14 state-owned colleges, it would tie state aid to private institutions to state direction; it would double the existing facilities for higher education to anticipate a doubled enrollment, and it would provide for a statewide system of community (junior) colleges.

SCHOOLING FOR ALL

Basically adopts the position that no qualified Pennsylvania girl or boy should be denied the opportunity to continuing education beyond high school.

The arithmetic of the basic problem confronting the committee was this: It is estimated that by 1970 the present college enrollment of some 190,000 students (including 50,000 part-time students) will rise to about 300,000.

The estimate is based upon the fact that a higher percentage of children are graduating from high school (compared to the number starting in high school) and the supposition that a greater number of children will seek post-secondary education upon graduation.

MOVE WITH TREND

"If Pennsylvania does not move with this trend, it is difficult to see how she can maintain her industrial position or keep the rate of unemployment down," the report adds.

To meet this impact, the committee recommends that the 14 state-owned colleges shuck their traditional role as primarily teacher training institutions to become liberal arts colleges, tripled in size by 1970 to handle 60,000, or 20 per cent of the anticipated receiving taxpayers' money they

This expanded role in higher education is something the state colleges themselves have sought, but it would imply in itself a significant acceptance by the state of a duty to provide this training since these colleges are the responsibility of the state.

35,000 AT STATE
Penn State, which now has a student population of 21,000, would expand to handle 35,000, including 10,000 at its extension centers around the state.

The remaining private institutions—108 of them—would expand to handle 126,000.

That would leave 79,000 additional students and this is where the junior college program takes over.

The junior college system outlined by the committee represents a compromise between two contending forces that have prevented action in this area in the past.

The contention was over who would control the system. Both the public schools and the colleges wanted their hand on the wheel.

MEASURE OF CONTROL

The committee's compromise was to give each a measure of control.

The system would be built upon the present school district pattern, with curriculum control left with the colleges through the device of having the local community college board (analogous to present school boards) contract with the colleges for operation of the junior college.

The state Council of Education, however, would lay down standards for the colleges.

For the private institutions receiving state aid—and that includes the likes of the universities of Pennsylvania and Pittsburgh and Temple University—the committee's recommendations carried real impact.

AID PRIVATE SCHOOLS

This system of state aid to private institutions is a uniquely Pennsylvania idea, developed in the 18th Century.

At a committee hearing last June, U. S. Sen. Joseph Clark of Philadelphia, a committee member, made the observation that the state was either going to have to justify this type of aid, eliminate it, or expand it to all private institutions.

What the committee proposed was that if these colleges and universities are going to continue receiving taxpayers' money they

SAYS SOVIETS INCREASE AID TO LAOS ARMY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has "greatly increased" its airlift of arms and supplies to rebel forces in Laos in the last few days, official U.S. sources report.

These sources said Monday night they were unable to explain the stepped up activity but commented "it is not a positive response to the British request for a cease-fire."

In fact, American officials interpreted the accelerated airlift as more of a rebuff to the British proposal which carries U.S. backing. The proposal called for an immediate cease-fire followed by an international conference on the Laos crisis.

NO U.S. INCREASE

U.S. officials said an effort will be made to learn the exact "arithmetic" of the increased Soviet airdrops. They said, however, that there has been no increase in the flow of U.S. arms to the royal Lao army.

Reports reaching the State Department in the last few days have stressed that no large-scale fighting is under way in the tiny Asian kingdom.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk briefs the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today on the Laotian situation.

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., said the crisis in Laos is top on the agenda of a closed-door briefing Rusk will give the committee, his first since the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization meeting in Bangkok.

"But I expect he will bring us up to date on the crisis in the Congo, the new threats in Viet Nam, and other developments around the world," Sparkman, acting chairman, told a newsman.

The State Department formally announced that Prince Souvanna Phouma of Laos has been invited to visit the United States in a private capacity to discuss the Laotian situation with President Kennedy.

The former premier is recognized by the Soviet Union as the head of the legal government of Laos, but is not recognized by the United States. He is expected to hold three days of talks here later this month.

must submit to a measure of state control.

Henceforth, their budget requests would have to be channeled through the Department of Public Instruction, the state council and the budget office. These institutions now make their own approaches to the legislature.

ADOPT MASTER PLAN

Moreover, these institutions would have to fit their future plans into a master plan for higher education drawn up by the state Council of Education.

The master plan idea is another significant recommendation of the committee. The state council, which would play a larger and larger role in public education under the committee's blueprint, would include manpower goals and educational needs in its planning.

Finally, there is the recommendation for a scholarship and loan program.

It recommends a program of competitive scholarships ranging from $100, to $1,000, the actual amount depending upon financial need. There is no limit on the number of scholarships.

PRIVATE LOAN PROGRAM

The committee says there should be enough to take care of "no less than five per cent of a given previous year's high school graduating class."

To further carry out the recommended basic philosophy that "no qualified youth should be denied educational opportunities because of economic circumstances," the committee proposes a state-insured, low-interest, private loan program "for students who do not qualify for scholarships but have college potential."

PRAYER FOR TODAY

from Go With God

BY JIM BISHOP

(Chosen by MEL ALLEN)

Mel Allen, born in Birmingham, Alabama, in 1913, is one of the best known American sports broadcasters. This anonymous prayer was read on a telecast of Ed Murrow's Person to Person show, and thousands of viewers wrote to the Columbia Broadcasting System requesting copies. It is called "The Prayer of a Game Guy."

DEAR GOD, help me to be a sport in this little game of life. I don't ask for any easy place in the line-up; play me anywhere You need me. I only ask for the stuff to give You 100 per cent of what I've got. If all the hard drives seem to come my way, I thank You for the compliment.

Help me to remember that You won't ever let anything come my way that You and I together can't handle. And help me to take the bad breaks as part of the game.

Help me to understand that the game is full of knots and knocks and trouble and make me thankful for them. Help me to get so the harder they come the better I like it.

And, O God, help me to always play on the square. No matter what the other players do, help me to come clean. Help me to study the Book so that I'll know the rules, and to study great players. If they found out that the best part of the game was helping other guys who were out of luck, help me to find it out too. Help me to be a regular fellow with the other players.

Finally, O God, if fate seems to uppercute me with both hands and I'm laid on the shelf in sickness or old age or something, help me to take that as part of the game too. Help me not to whimper or squeal that the game was a frameup or that I had a raw deal.

When in the falling dusk, I get the final bell, I ask for no lying complimentary stones. I'd only like to know that You feel that I've been a good, game guy. Amen.

S. S. WORKERS MEET
The Sunday School workers of Redeemer's United Church of Christ met Monday evening at the church and the opening prayer was given by the pastor, the Rev. Glenn Finchbaugh. It was decided that Promotion Day will be observed in the Sunday School on June 25. Children's Day will be noted in the various children's department of the Sunday School on June 11 at 10 a.m. The Sunday School will convene at 9:30 a.m. that day to take care of records, and go to the sanctuary for the program at 10 o'clock. It was agreed that the pastor should place an ad in the "United Church Herald" to dispose of the 96 hymnals no longer used in the Adult Department. Mrs. Dean W. Bankert was named assistant teacher to Mrs. Marvin F. Breighner for the Intermediates. It was announced that a superintendent is needed for the Primary Department.

James Kroh was leader at the meeting of the Youth Fellowship of Redeemer's Church on Sunday evening. The topic, "Prejudice Against Semetic Groups," was introduced by the leader and a group discussion followed. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer W. Gall and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Reinaman, the April adult counsellors, were in attendance. Steven Basehoar was appointed to be leader for the next meeting on Sunday at 6:30 p.m. Plans were made for the young people to visit the Hanover Shoe Farms on Sunday, April 23, leaving from the church at 1:30 p.m., after which the group will go to the Sam Lewis State Park, near Wrightsville, for the evening meal and vespers.

Install Bishop McShea At Sacred Ceremonies

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — The Most Rev. Joseph McShea today was installed as bishop of the new Allentown Roman Catholic Diocese in sacred ceremonies which included a procession, reading of the apostolic bulls, enthronement and a pontifical mass.

Some 800 persons, including Roman Catholic hierarchy, public officials and prominent laymen, were on hand at St. Catherine of Siena Roman Catholic Church as the procession entered the church.

Following the procession which included bishops and monsignori, a prayer was said for the new bishop.

DECREES ARE READ

Shortly after, Archbishop Egidio Vagnozzi, apostolic delegate to the United States, read the apostolic bulls which are decrees pertaining to the setting up of the new diocese encompassing 243,000 Roman Catholics in Lehigh, Berks, Carbon, Northampton and Schuylkill Counties.

The new diocese was created on Feb. 15 when Pope John XXIII announced the Archdiocese of Philadelphia, which previously had taken in the five northeastern Pennsylvania counties, had been split.

At the same time Pope John named Bishop McShea, 53, a native of Latimer, Pa., and administrator of the Philadelphia Archdiocese since the death of John Cardinal O'Hara last August, head of the new diocese. The Most Rev. John J. Krol of Cleveland was named archbishop of the Philadelphia Diocese. He was installed last month.

GIVEN CROZIER MARK

In today's ceremonies, Bishop McShea went to the foot of the altar where he was met by Archbishop Vagnozzi and by Msgr. Leo G. Fink, vicar forane of Lehigh and Northampton counties. They escorted Bishop McShea to the throne on the Gospel side of the church where he was enthroned.

Archbishop Vagnozzi presented him with a crozier mark, similar to a shepherd's crook, symbolizing the responsibilities of the bishop as shepherd of his flock.

Bishop McShea then rose and he gave his first solemn blessing as bishop of the Allentown Diocese. Representatives of the clergy then approached the throne and kissed his holy ring as a pledge of their reverence and obedience.

"DAY OF DEDICATION"

In prepared remarks for his sermon, Bishop McShea said "the beautiful strains of sacred music expressed the jubilation that filled our hearts at this historic moment. This is a day of birth, of dedication and of prayer."

"I your shepherd," he said, "and you my co-workers and flock, offer yourselves without reservation to the spreading of God's kingdom on earth."

He said that every triumph of Christ's church had its counter part of struggle and often of momentary defeat. He added that in what he called this new family of Christ there will be disappointments as well as consolations and failures as well as successes.

The pontifical mass was celebrated by Archbishop Vagnozzi in honor of St. Catherine, patroness of the cathedral. The church's name became the St. Catherine of Siena Cathedral, or the cathedral church of the Allentown Diocese.

MINISTERS ASSIST

Ministers to Archbishop Vagnozzi were Msgr. John E. Boyle, assistant priest, and Msgrs. Cornelius V. O'Brien and George M. Pietro, deacons of honor. Msgr. Theodore C. Wagner was deacon of the mass. Msgr. Gerald McDevitt was master of ceremonies.

The choir of St. Francis de Sales Church of Philadelphia under the direction of Father Angelo della Pica sang "Ecce Sacerdos Magnus" (Behold the great priest who pleased God in his life); "Veni Sponsa Christi" (Come O Spouse

LEGISLATURE HOLDS JOINT SESSION FOR GOV. LAWRENCE

By HARRY BALL

HARRISBURG (AP) — Speaker Hiram Andrews' gavel whacked the sounding board with a sudden note of urgency.

"Order, order. The House will be in order. The Senate is in the hall of the House."

Sure enough, a half-hundred Senators—out of the natural orbit of their own chamber—had suddenly appeared in the rear of the chamber. The Senators stood awkwardly ill at ease behind the railing while a deputation bearing aloft the lieutenant-governor's brass-crested mace marched solemnly down the center aisle.

At an appropriate distance, the sergeant-at-arms stopped and informed Speaker Andrews over the House public address system that the Senate had arrived for a joint session.

FORMALLY NOTIFIED

Of course, Speaker Andrews from his vantage point on the rostrum could plainly see that the Senate had arrived, but formally notifying him is part of the protocol when Pennsylvania's two houses of the legislature get together for a joint session.

Joint sessions are always held in the House. For one thing, the Senate chamber is barely roomy enough for 50 senators, let alone an influx of 200-odd representatives.

Things get cramped even in the spacious House chamber. Chairs are provided for the visiting Senators in the front of the House. The capacity of the press gallery becomes over-taxed. The public gallery has more visitors than is usual.

APPEARANCE OF GOVERNOR

The occasion Monday was an appearance by the governor, always an important event in the legislative routine. It's just a short walk from the governor's executive suite through a side door directly into the House behind the speaker's dias. Yet Monday was only the third time Gov. Lawrence had made the trip since the present session began on Jan. 3.

He gave his "State of the Commonwealth" speech on opening day and returned for personal presentation of the 991 million annual budget.

Gov. Lawrence's third appearance before the lawmakers was to give his formal blessing to the work of a special committee which investigated Pennsylvania's educational system and submitted its recommendations in a voluminous

To Open State Park Beaches On May 27

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Forests and Waters Department says state park beaches will be open for swimmers on May 27, the Saturday before Memorial Day.

Although Memorial Day is the usual opening day, the Department said it has decided to open the beaches for the extra weekend since the holiday comes on Tuesday this year.

The beaches are scheduled to close after Labor Day, Sept. 4.

The department will have a total of 71 parks open this year including two new parks. The Gifford Pinchot State Park, between Harrisburg and York, is scheduled to open May 27 and the new Susquehanna State Park, Williamsport, will open June 15.

BIBLE GRADS UP TO PAR

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — The Accrediting Association of Bible Colleges says a study of the records of 181 seminary students shows that graduates of Bible colleges generally achieve as well scholastically in seminary courses as those from liberal arts colleges and universities.

ENROLLMENTS CLIMB

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Enrollments at 71 Southern Baptist educational institutions rose to 52,494 for the 1960-61 school year, compared with 50,161 at the corresponding time last year, a survey shows.

REPORT LAST WEEK

KNEW HIS LIMIT

A governor less adept at political strategy could easily have made a mistake on a mission of this kind. Pennsylvania's government, like the federal model, is composed of three distinct branches—executive, legislative and judicial. One branch seldom goes poking its nose in the other's affairs.

Gov. Lawrence seemed to know instinctively how far he could go Monday without stepping on sensitive legislative toes.

In essence, the governor said merely that there was a committee that had been created by the legislature's own resolution in 1959; it had labored long and fruitfully, and in his own words, "let's not sweep this report under the rug."

Lawrence kept a discretionary silence on specific recommendations. There are 145 in the report. Nor did he endeavor to tell the lawmakers how to go about implementing any recommendations.

His mere presence before the lawmakers was construed as underscoring the importance the state's chief executive attaches to the Education Committee report.
